

TUDORS to WINDSORS EXHIBITION

27 June 2019

(Comments courtesy Helen Brown and Photos by Eleanor Allan & Annette Weatherson)

Winter and a very early start did not stop 11 Probians and one visitor going by train to Southern Cross and enjoying a cuppa before boarding a train to Bendigo. Lots of folk on the train for the Gallery. We had a great time to chatter, laugh and relax on our journey. On arrival at Bendigo, buses were waiting for an easy trip to the Gallery. The Tudor Exhibition gave us lots to look at and read and I am sure we all learnt a bit more about our Royal Families. There were things that were out of England for the first time. Our school history lessons were coming back to us. Lunch was across the road at the Rifle Brigade Hotel. It was a long day, but a chance to see the country side by train and of course to use our free tickets, which some folk have never used before.

Photo from the back of the Bendigo Gallery

The Gang at Lunch

Out the back of Gallery

Wedding of Queen Elizabeth II

Windsor family tree

Jenny and Pam at the exhibition

